Founder's Message

Raising a healthy child—physically, mentally, and emotionally—is a beautiful but immense challenge, especially for first-time parents.

I experienced this firsthand with my oldest child and quickly realized how unprepared I felt. In moments of doubt, feeling like I was failing as a mother, I turned to science, and I decided to study Child Psychology and began applying those insights to my daily parenting. Now, 30 years later, I can see that those efforts paid off.

Life brought me to Okinawa nearly two decades ago, granting me the wonderful opportunity to establish an educational project: Da Vinci International School. Today, I am proud to share my experience as a mother, teacher, child psychologist, and director. My lifelong goal remains to support you on this incredible journey of raising a happy, thriving child.

Our curriculum seamlessly blends primary academic requirements with structural child psychology, cutting-edge neuroscience research, and a deep respect for each student's individuality.

The Da Vinci International School team actively tailors learning paths to ensure a perfect fit for your child's specific developmental and intellectual needs.

Our Philosophy: The 7 Pillars

For 18 years, the Da Vinci team has researched, developed, and refined a unique approach to education.

Having trained with experts from Oxford, Harvard, and the UN's University for Peace, we created the 7 Pillars of Well-Being. Rather than teaching these as isolated subjects, we weave them into daily school life to foster academic success, emotional well-being, and resilient social skills.

1. High Academic Standards

Our small class sizes and personalized tutoring inspire a lifelong love for learning, strong self-discipline, and goal-setting capabilities. This approach inspires independent thinking and a true passion for knowledge.

At Da Vinci, we believe education should never be one-size-fits-all. A child's natural learning pace is central to our initial assessment. Allowing us to customize the teaching process to match the learner's pace perfectly.

2. Core Moral Values

The ability to make ethical choices is the foundation of a meaningful life. We emphasize five essential values through group discussions, role-playing, and daily modelling:

- Respect: Treating others with kindness, listening attentively, and practicing empathy.
- Honesty: Building trust through truthfulness and personal integrity.
- Responsibility: Owning one's actions and understanding their impact.
- Teamwork: Cooperating, trusting peers, and working toward shared goals.
- Effort: Persevering through challenges with hard work and grit.

3. Relationship Skills

Because social skills are not automatic, we actively teach students how to express emotions healthily, build lasting friendships, resolve conflicts peacefully, and practice active listening. This guidance builds the confidence required to form deep, meaningful connections, that will grow with them into adulthood.

4. Self-Control & Stress Management

Navigating frustration is a vital life skill. Through the daily routine, play time, and individual conversations, we build strong relationships with students while teaching:

- Stress Prevention: Techniques to stay calm and grounded under pressure.
- Independent Conflict Resolution: Solving interpersonal problems constructively.
- Resilience: Embracing failure as a natural healthy step toward growth.
- Strategic Goal Setting: Identifying challenges, planning solutions, and following through.

5. Physical Development

Daily physical activity (45–60 minutes) is central to our day. Structured exercise enhances academic performance and mental well-being by optimizing:

- Memory & Neuroplasticity: Boosting brain function and learning capacity.

of Well-Being

- Focus & Attention: Increasing classroom concentration while lowering classroom stress.
- Energy Regulation: Providing a healthy outlet to improve self-control.
- Motor Skills: Advancing coordination, balance, and physical dexterity.

6. No Homework Policy

We believe in a balanced lifestyle. Our strict "no-homework" policy ensures students can enjoy family time, hobbies, and extracurricular activities without burnout. A highly structured school day guarantees a comprehensive education entirely within class hours.

7. Bullying Prevention

We maintain a safe, inclusive environment through proactive prevention, immediate intervention, and restorative practices. Supported by social-emotional learning our school culture naturally fosters:

- Higher academic focus and achievement.
- Lower anxiety and enhanced emotional safety.
- Stronger self-confidence and proud school engagement.

ENROLLMENT PROCESS

A Simple and Personalized Admission Journey

Choosing the right school is an important family decision. Here are the steps you need to take:

Step 1 — Initial Inquiry

Contact our Admissions Office by email to express your interest in our school. Our staff will answer your questions, provide detailed information about our programs, and guide you through the enrollment process.

E-mail address: info@davinci.okinawa

Step 2 — School Tour

Families are invited to visit our campus and experience the learning environment firsthand. During the tour, you will have the opportunity to observe our facilities, learn about our educational philosophy, and ask questions about academics, student life, transportation, extracurricular activities, and daily routines.

Step 3 — Student & Family Interview

Prospective students and their parents will meet with a school director or admissions representative. This conversation helps us learn about the student's academic background, interests, English proficiency, learning style, and future goals while giving families an opportunity to discuss any questions or concerns.

Step 4 — Academic Records & Document Review

Applicants are asked to submit the required documents, which may include:

- Previous school transcripts or report cards
- Passport or identification documents
- Residence status or visa documentation (if applicable)
- Any additional educational or medical information that may help us support the student's learning

Step 5 — Admission Decision

After reviewing all documents and completing the interview process, the school will notify the family of the admission decision. If accepted, the family will receive an Acceptance Letter together with enrollment instructions.

Step 6 — Enrollment Meeting

The final step is an enrollment meeting with the family. During this meeting we will:

- Review the School Agreement and school policies and procedures together.
- Complete the enrollment documentation.
- Confirm transportation and other requested services.
- Settle the tuition and applicable school fees according to the selected payment plan.

Once these steps have been completed, the student's place is officially reserved, and we look forward to welcoming them into the Da Vinci International School community.

We are committed to making every family's enrollment experience clear, personal, and welcoming from the very first inquiry to the student's first day of school.
